BEVERIDGE DEFEATS SENATOR HARRY NEW

Personality Big Factor In Indiana G. O. P. Primary.

By Everett C. Watkins.

Washington, May 3.—Naturally there is some personal disappointment in Washington because of the defeat of Senator Harry S. New for renomination in the Indiana primary, yet those who have been New sympathizers readily agree, as they look forward to November, that Albert J. Beveridge will be a tower of strength on the Republican ticket, and they confidently predict the Hoosier state will remain in the G. O. P. column.

Members of the Hoosier delegation in the House, all of whom have been renominated, are among those who declare with confidence that Beveridge will be a winner, with the state rolling up another impressive majority.

Recognizing Mr. Beveridge's qualities as a statesman and powerful campaigner, they consider his nomination is good for the party and insures a November triumph for the entire Republican ticket. Democratic leaders professed to regard Senator New's defeat as a slap at the administration, but there is no basis for their suggestion, since Mr. Beveridge was profuse in his praise of President Harding and pledged his loyal support to the administration.

Mr. Beveridge, in his campaign addresses, declared repeatedly: "I will stand by and fight with Warren G. Harding as long as he is President which I hope and expect will be for the next seven years."

It also is pointed out that all thirteen of the Hoosier members of the House have been quite as consistent and ardent in their support of the administration as has Senator New, and all have been renominated, some not even having opposition in the primary. While President Harding has a personal fondness for Senator New, as do all who know him, it is known, too, that he has an admiration for Mr. Beveridge's big ability and qualities as a statesman and leader.

The President, while neutral in the Indiana primary, as he will be in the primary of his own state of Ohio and other states, will be interested in the election of Republican senators and representatives in November.

It is considered that the Indiana senatorial primary had little political significance, representing, as it did, a contest between personalities rather than a battle over issues. The talented Mr. Beveridge impressed his personality and ability on the voters, and with no special issue involved, the stronger personality triumphed.

MISS COCHRAN'S REVIVAL BROUGHT TO CLOSE APRIL 30

The series of meetings which had been conducted in Hartford at the Christian Church, under the leadership of Miss Alpha Cochran, of the Methodist Episcopal Conference, Kansas, was brought to a close Sunday night, April 30. The meeting was largely attended at every service, both afternoon and at night, and a number of professions were made. Miss Cochran recently held revivals at NoCreek and Washington, and it is believed that she did a great amount of good in both communities, and in Hartford also. Miss Cochran is a splendid speaker, and is so good that people fell in love with both she and her assistant, Miss Hendrix. When the people bade them farewell Sunday night, they had a feeling that it might be the last time they would ever clasp their hands again, but it is hoped by all that we may have them in this community again soon. They left Hartford this week for Scottsville, where Miss Cochran will assist the Rev. Cantrill in a revival at that place. Rev. Cantrill was formerly pastor of the NoCreek and Washington churches.

NO CHANGE IN THE COAL SITUATION

U. S. Not Planning To Act In Strike; Data Is Gathered.

Washington, May 2.—Indications were given today that the administration policy toward the bituminous coal strike would remain unchanged for the present, altho President Harding's advisers and officials concerned have given attention recently to proposals looking to intervention in the industry by the government. A slight tendency for coal production to increase notwithstanding the strike, fairly peaceful conditions in mining districts as evidenced by confidential reports from almost every locality from government agents, and undisturbed price levels, it was declared, might allow operators and miners to work out adjustments eventually without federal action.

Secretary Hoover has had under way a study of the industry, particularly with reference to market conditions which occasion in part-time operations and intermittent employment. It was not indicated today, however, that these studies had direct reference to the wage controversy which caused the national strike, but it was considered they might have some indirect bearing. Secretary Davis was also understood to have gathered data on a variety of plans submitted looking to federal action. Some of them involve creation of federal regulatory commissions, and are in line with House labor committee proposals which have been put before President Harding by Chairman Nolan and Representative Bland, Republican, Indiana, in the Bland bill.

Representatives of operators in various districts, and also of the United Mine Workers, have kept closely in contact with the research work and discussions. None of them, however, anticipate any action for the moment from the executive departments.

JOHN GAINES LLOYD IS BURNED TO DEATH

John Gaines Lloyd, better known throughout the county as "Tumpy" met his death Tuesday morning when he was accidentally burned to death, at the home of his nephew, Mr. W. W. Lloyd, near Barrett's Ferry. He was eighty years, eight months and seven days old, and had been in feeble health for the past several months, but was able to be up the most of the time. After breakfast the fatal morning, he returned to his room, and in a short while after, a member of the family entered the room and found him lying in the fireplace burned to death, his clothing had already burned off of him, and the room was on fire.

"Tumpy" was feeble-minded, and had been since birth, but during his active years he spent most of his time in walking over the county. He would draw a crowd about him wherever he went, entertaining them with singing, playing a French-harp, showing them pocket knives and other trinkets that he carried about him.

NOCREEK SINGING CONVENTION HELD SUNDAY APRIL 30.

The Northern division of the Ohio County singing convention met at NoCreek, Sunday April 30, 1922.

In the absence of the president, Mr. Ozna Shultz was chosen to preside instead.

The incumbent secretary, after many years of efficient service, having passed to his reward, Mr. C. K. Carson was chosen secretary.

After song by the congregation, Rev. Granville Jagers (resident pastor) delivered the welcome address, which was responded to by Rev. Buckner, of Beaver Dam.

The following classes sang three songs each in both the forenoon and afternoon. NoCreek, T. P. Carson, leader; Mount Hermon, Mrs. Lydia Westerfield, leader; Shinkle Chapel, Sherman Howard, leader; Liberty, Horace Taylor, leader; Hartford, W. J. Bean, leader; Williams Mines, Bird Lee, leader.

The NoCreek Junior class, led by Mrs. J. W. Miller, favored us with a splendid song just before we disbanded to attack the repast service in the beautiful grove surrounding the church.

Immediately after reassembling we were favored by songs by the following quartettes:

Liberty choir, D. M. Stewart, J. R. McCoy, Chas. Lee and Horace Taylor. Mount Hermon, Mrs. Fleetwood Ward, Frank Duke, Mrs. Dudley Westerfield and Carl Renfrow.

NoCreek, T. P. Carson, L. P. Sandefur, J. A. Blibro and Currey Wallace, also a mixed quartette by Mrs. Bettie Miller, Mrs. Currey Wallace, T. P. Carson and J. A. Blibro.

The NoCreek juniors then sang another song, after which Miss Alpha Cochran was asked to address the convention. Her subject was "Christ" and the address was such as only she can deliver. It was received by a (for the time being, at least) very serious and thoughtful people.

At 4 p.m. the convention adjourned to meet again at Liberty, the fifth Sunday in July, unless further notice is given thru the paper.

Your humble scribe believes that he expresses the sentiment of all present that the day was well spent and was enjoyed by all of the many Ohio County Citizens attending. C. K. CARSON, Secy.

CHINESE IN BATTLE NEAR PEKIN'S GATES

Wu Speeds Troops North To Meet Chang's 100,000 Men.

Pekin, May 3.—Heavy cannonading was in progress yesterday at various points along the front extending from Machang, south of Tientsin, across the country to the vicinity of Tekin. Severe fighting occurred at a point along the Hun Ho River, thirty miles south of this city, where 40,000 troops of General Wu Pei-Fu, the central Chinese leader, endeavored to force a crossing in order to gain control of the Pekin-Tientsin Railroad.

General Chang Tso-Lin, governor of Manchuria and head of the opposing forces, from his headquarters near Tientsin ordered trains to convey the main body of his 100,000 soldiers to the front south of the Great Wall. Two Manchurian airplanes flew over Tientsin and proceeded westward.

Later airplanes dropped bombs near the station at Hwangtsun, only a short distance from here.

Advices received by military attaches here said Wu Pei-Fu was sending troops Northward at the greatest possible speed.

Fifty thousand of his troops, concentrated at Paoingfu, are being re-informed from the Yangtze provinces. Twenty thousand others, recruited from Shantung, are marching against Chang Tso-Lin's southeastern stronghold at Machang.

Two thousand dead and wounded were found on the field after the battle at Changsintien, outside of Pekin. The booming of cannon was heard in Pekin all last night, but the cannonading ceased this morning. Despite the continuation of trench warfare, many foreigners, including legation guards, went outside the city to view the hostilities.

Corporal Mason, an American marine, from Colorado, was shot in the arm, but was not wounded seriously.

French employees at the locomotive works at Changsintien narrowly escaped when a bomb, dropped from an airplane, destroyed the works.

Gen. Wu Pei-Fu is continuing to send troops west of Pekin in an endeavor to envelop General Chang's northwestern wing. This precipitated fighting, lasted all night at Fengtai, ten miles from Pekin.

Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, was due to arrive in Pekin tonight to confer with Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister, regarding measures for the protection of foreigners. Pekin is considered thoroughly protected, since the city's gates are closed at night and the streets are patrolled by Chinese troops.
